

What should I do if my advisor is not available?

When your advisor is not available and you need immediate assistance, let the Advising staff know, and they will get you the help you need. One of the other advisors may be able to help you resolve your issue. You may also be able to resolve your issue through email contact with your advisor. For quick questions, you may also contact the Advising Office at advisor@owens.edu. For general questions, you can talk with an advisor via chat by going to www.owens.edu and clicking on the "Chat with an Advisor" link at the bottom left of the page.

Article ID: 493

Last updated: 31 Oct, 2014

Revision: 6

Academic Advising -> What should I do if my advisor is not available?

<https://www2.owens.edu/faq/entry/493/>